The Ever-Present Origin

July 2, 2024 7:00–9:00pm

St. Paul’s on Bloor, 227 Bloor Street East, Toronto

Speaker,
Fr. Laurence Freeman

Under the stresses of modern living, we easily become uprooted and scattered, living fragmentary and distracted lives and yet, even when living in this way, we are not far from the kingdom, the “ever-present origin” which is the presence of God in all places and at all times. Meditation re-roots us in this experience of real presence. It is the gift we practice and the gift we can share. There is no greater gift for us to share with the world today.

Light snacks and refreshments will be served.

✠ POETRY CORNER ✠

SAINT PETER

by Malcolm Guite (1957-)

Impulsive master of misunderstanding
You comfort me with all your big mistakes;
Jumping the ship before you make the landing,
Placing the bet before you know the stakes.
I love the way you step out without knowing,
The way you sometimes speak before you think,
The way your broken faith is always growing,
The way he holds you even when you sink.
Born to a world that always tried to shame you,
Your shaky ego vulnerable to shame,
I love the way that Jesus chose to name you,
Before you knew how to deserve that name.
And in the end your Saviour let you prove
That each denial is undone by love.

✠ DEVOTIONAL VIGNETTE ✠

TODAY'S GOSPEL (Luke 5:1-11) is a practical demonstration of the words of Jesus: "Without Me, you can do nothing" (John 15:5). Simon and his companions had been fishing all night and had caught nothing; that is all they had been able to do by themselves. If we have had some little experience in the spiritual life, we will recognize that this is often our situation too. How many efforts we have made to rid ourselves of this or that attachment, to forget injuries, to adapt ourself to our neighbour's way of doing things, to subject our will to another's! And yet, after all these attempts, we find our hands empty, like Peter's nets. Let us not be discouraged; if we can humbly acknowledge our failure instead of feeling annoyance because of it, the failure itself will turn into victory. So it happened to Peter after he had admitted publicly that he had "taken nothing." S. Thérèse of the Child Jesus comments: "Had the Apostle caught some small fish, perhaps our divine Master would not have worked a miracle; but he had caught nothing, and so through the power and goodness of God his nets were soon filled with great fishes. Such is Our Lord's way. He gives as God, with divine generosity, but He insists on humility of heart."

In spite of our good will to advance in virtue, Our Lord will not permit us to have any success until He sees that we are thoroughly convinced of our own weakness and inability; to give us this conviction He lets us, as He let Peter "work all night without catching anything." But afterwards, as He sees our growing awareness of our poverty and our willingness to admit it openly, He will come to our aid. We must, then, have great faith in Him, never allowing ourselves to give up through lack of success. Every day, relying "on His word," we must begin anew. If we have learned not to trust in our own strength, we must also learn to have complete confidence in the divine aid. If we have caught nothing until now, perhaps it is our lack of unshakable confidence in the cause, and this deficiency, besides being displeasing to Jesus, paralyzes our spiritual life. Then let us repeat with Peter in a similar cry of confidence: "in verbo tuo laxabo rete," Lord, at Thy word, I will let down the net. And let us repeat it every day, every moment, without ever growing weary.
