

PARISH ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUNDAY, 14 SEPTEMBER, 2025

PLEASE TAKE THIS HOME

Father Hannam requests that all cases of sorrow or suffering be reported to him.

WELCOME OR WELCOME BACK to S. Bart's on our parish's Back to Church & Gathering Sunday! If you are new to the Parish, we wish you a warm welcome from our parish family. We look forward to getting to know you! If you are returning after a season, welcome home. We've missed you!

PLEASE JOIN US FOR COFFEE HOUR following the 11 o'clock Parish Mass! We meet in the Parish Hall, down the front stairs and to the right.

REGULAR SERVICE SCHEDULE RESUMES As of today, we resume our regular schedule of two Sunday services (Low Mass at 9 a.m., and Sung Mass at 11 a.m.), and Weekday Masses and Morning Prayer also resume. Please see the "Through the Week" calendar for details.

THE CONFRATERNITY OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT: Vespers of the Blessed Sacrament and Benediction at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, 17 September.

BOOK RELEASE!

Cautionary Tales for Careful Clerics* by Kieran Wilson, illustrated by Roland Hui

Former parishioner and friend of S. Bart's Kieran Wilson is excited to announce the release of Cautionary Tales for Careful Clerics, a collection of humorous poetry inspired by Hilaire Belloc's Cautionary Tales for Children. In the Tales, the reader will meet the Rev'd Canon Æthelstan Babbitt, who omitted morning prayer and was killed by a bus, and the Rev'd Dr Sigismund Drone, who preached for too long and came to grief by a parrot, along with a host of other clerical miscreants, all brought to life with 36 original illustrations. This book is for Anglican clerics, all those who love them, and all those who love a good laugh. All proceeds from the sale of the book are in support of the ministry of the Church of Saint John the Evangelist, Montreal's historic Anglo-Catholic parish.

POETRY CORNER

HALF DEAD

by Christina Georgina Rossetti (1830-1894)

O Christ the Life, look on me where I lie
Ready to die:
O Good Samaritan, nay, pass not by.
O Christ, my Life, pour in Thine oil and wine
To keep me Thine;
Me ever Thine, and Thee for ever mine.
Watch by Thy saints and sinners, watch by all
Thy great and small:
Once Thou didst call us all, — O Lord, recall.
Think how Thy saints love sinners, how they pray
And hope always,
And thereby grow more like Thee day by day.
O Saint of saints, if those with prayer and vow
Succour us now...
It was not they died for us, it was Thou.

✠ DEVOTIONAL VIGNETTE ✠

TO THE SCRIBES AND PHARISEES, the word neighbours meant friends, or at most, the Israelites, but never the pagans or the Samaritans. However, the Saviour went beyond this narrow interpretation and suggested an act of charity to an enemy as a concrete example of the charity which was commanded by the law. The good Samaritan brought help to a poor Jew who had been left unaided and abandoned by a priest and a levite, his own fellow countrymen; he did not take into account the hatred the Jews had for his people. This universal charity is to be the distinctive mark of the new religion established by Christ. St. James wrote: “Religion clean and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their tribulation”

(1:27). There is no true religion without charity toward our neighbour, and above all toward a suffering neighbour. The scribes and Pharisees, and even their priests, who had reduced religion to mere exterior formalism while neglecting the duties of charity with such unconcern, found themselves condemned by the parable of the good Samaritan. Unfortunately, even among Christians, there are found devout persons who are scrupulous about omitting a single exercise of piety but have no hesitation about abandoning those who suffer; they have not grasped the real inner meaning of religion, but have stopped at the exterior practices. Religion gives us an intense realization of our relationship with God: He is our Father and we are His children; but if we are all children of the same Father, how is it that we do not consider ourselves brothers? True piety consists in the realization of our divine sonship and of our brotherhood with all men, without exception. And he who truly feels himself a brother will never be heedless of the needs and sufferings of others.
