Envelopes not only simplify our Sunday counting, but are the means by which we are able to report numbers of “identified donors” to the diocese, which is a major means of monitoring our growth as a parish. For more information, please speak to Marlone Dawkins.

IF YOU DONATE ONLINE and we don’t have your address, please communicate it to the Envelope Secretary (Marlone Dawkins) so that we can send your end-of-year tax receipt.

THE BREAKFAST PROGRAMME continues each Thursday. The doors open at 5:30 a.m. until 8:00 a.m., and hot food is served beginning at 6:00 a.m.

✠ POETRY CORNER ✠

APOSTLE

by Malcolm Guite (1957-)

An enemy whom God has made a friend,
 A righteous man discounting righteousness,
 Last to believe and first for God to send,
 He found the fountain in the wilderness.
 Thrown to the ground and raised at the same moment,
 A prisoner who set his captors free,
 A naked man with love his only garment,
 A blinded man who helped the world to see,
 A Jew who had been perfect in the law,
 Blesses the flesh of every other race
 And helps them see what the apostles saw;
 The glory of the lord in Jesus' face.
 Strong in his weakness, joyful in his pains,
 And bound by love, he freed us from our chains.

✠ DEVOTIONAL VIGNETTE ✠

TODAY'S [LAST] GOSPEL (Matthew 8:1–13) places before us two miracles of Jesus, two profound lesson in humility, faith, and charity.

Observe the humble faith of the leper: “Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.” He is so certain that Jesus can heal him that he feels nothing else is necessary for his cure other than the Lord’s will. Christian faith does not wander about in subtle reasonings; its logic is simple: God can do all that He wills; therefore, His will alone is necessary. Yet the leper does not insist; one who lives by faith knows that God always wills whatever is best for him, even if it brings him suffering. Therefore, instead of insisting, he prefers to abandon himself to God’s good pleasure.

Next comes the centurion. The strong, proud Roman soldier is not ashamed to personally beg Jesus, a Galilean, to help his paralyzed servant. Our Lord is touched by this humble, charitable act, and says at once, “I shall go and heal him!” But the centurion continues, “I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof, but only say the word, and my servant shall be healed.” At this point humility becomes still more profound, and faith reaches its maximum: it is not necessary for the Lord to go; His power is so great that a word spoken from afar suffices to perform any miracle. Jesus Himself “marvelled and said: ‘Amen I say to you, I have not found so great faith in Israel!’” Is this not a complaint against those who live so close to Him, who perhaps live in His own house [i.e., members of the Church], receiving constant favours from Him, while their faith remains very weak and therefore inefficacious?
